

The Community Relations Committee held several events over the last year including a zoom based presentation on Repairing Our Democracy, NYT best selling author Jeffrey Selingo on the College Admissions process and a successful Blood drive. We were told by the Red Cross that it was equal to saving 90 lives. Future plans are under way to host additional blood drives and a potential pop up concert. I continue to try and welcome new residents and seek new speakers for the speaker series. Suggestions are always welcome from the community.

Thank You,
